

Revue hellénique de droit international

Editorial note

The Revue hellénique de droit international accepts submissions of contributions, preferably on subjects of public and private international law, European Community law and comparative law. The authors are requested to submit their contributions in English, French or German directly to the e-mail address of the Hellenic Institute of International and Foreign Law (hiifl@hiifl.gr). Receipt of publication, as well as non-acceptance of publication by the Revue scientific committee will be duly notified.

Contributions shall conform to the editorial style of the Revue. Published articles will also be diffused electronically and may not be wholly or partially reproduced without authorization by the Hellenic Institute of International and Foreign Law. Publication by the Revue does not in any way imply the board of editors' approval of opinions expressed therein.

Publications sent to the board of editors shall be mentioned in the list of Publications Received and may be subject to review.

All communications, publications etc. shall be addressed to the board of editors of the Revue hellénique de droit international, Hellenic Institute of International and Foreign Law, Solonos 73, 106 79 Athens GR.